

Aviation Merchant Features & Benefits

Overview

For over 30 years, the U.S. Bank Multi Service Aviation Network has been a leading acquiring network for FBOs across the United States and Canada. Backed by U.S. Bank, the fifth largest commercial bank in the United States, it is proud to be the first network built specifically for aviation-related purchases. Moreover, both merchants and cardholders put their trust in the experience and security of the closed-loop U.S. Bank Multi Service Aviation Network for their aviation payment needs.

How it Works

U.S. Bank Multi Service Aviation Network provides a flexible and comprehensive set of functionality to support merchants for all of their card processing and payment needs. In fact, our tools and options allow merchants to receive one payment for all cards along with the ability to:

- Decide how quickly to receive payments
- Access online program information and services including robust reporting
- View all transactions on one statement
- Take advantage of competitive processing and fees
- Gain access to 24/7 merchant support

Account Flexibility

When partnered with the U.S. Bank Multi Service Aviation Network, business and transaction processing solutions are backed by the strength of U.S. Bank, allowing merchants to choose service terms that fit with their unique business structure.

- Merchant fees directly correlate to length of payment: the longer the funding timeline, the lower the merchant fee
- Various options for payment and type of currency to help eliminate bank collection fees and potential foreign exchange issues

Network Benefits

The U.S. Bank Multi Service Aviation Network helps FBOs grow their businesses from the start. Our welcome kits contain everything needed to accept payments right away. Plus, those on the Network enjoy:

- Expanded visibility to potential customers via our FBO directory
- Added flexibility to view and edit FBO contact details online
- Enhanced payment processing with our state-of-the-art point-of-sale devices
- Increased payment and reporting efficiencies

Easy Access to Information

Extensive account management services supply merchants with tools to compile complete information about their account, online from anywhere in the world. Our website provides merchants with easy-to-use search tools, and a superior support team.

Furthermore, online account information and robust reporting gives businesses the tools needed to manage the payment processing more efficiently and effectively. View recent deposits and other information about account activity including: batch details, invoice status and deposit history.

Competitive Card Processing

Take advantage of competitive fees and have all card acceptance needs handled by the same processor.

Unsurpassed Customer Service

Merchants on the U.S. Bank Multi Service Aviation Network enjoy superior customer service. With proven reliability and solid financial strength, merchants trust us to process their invoices securely, accurately, and efficiently.

Customer service is available 24/7 to assist with merchant needs such as card acceptance, point-of-sale machine questions and concerns regarding reimbursement and statements.
